

Veronika Řezáčová

Legal expert

Veronika Řezáčová specialises in the public sector, particularly public procurement law, construction law and property law, environmental law and other areas relating to administrative and contract law.

She has experience in providing comprehensive legal support in public procurement, particularly on behalf of sector-specific contracting authorities, in both above-threshold and below-threshold procurement procedures, as well as in architectural design competitions and related procedures, with individual public contracts worth up to hundreds of millions of Czech crowns.

In the field of administrative and construction law, she provided comprehensive legal support in the preparation of transport infrastructure projects, including negotiations with the relevant parties. In the field of contract law, she has experience in drafting and negotiating planning agreements, cooperation agreements and other contractual documentation relating to the development of transport infrastructure projects.

Before joining our law firm, she worked for several years at the High-Speed Rail Construction Management of Správa železnic, state organisation, and at the Office of the Government of the Czech Republic.

Projects

- Comprehensive legal support in relation to architectural design competitions and subsequent negotiated procedures without prior publication for high-speed railway terminals
- Comprehensive legal support in the field of public procurement for project documentation as part of the preparation of high-speed rail lines, with a value of approximately CZK 300 million per public contract
- Advice and provision of a comprehensive service in the field of mining law in relation to the negotiation and drafting of contractual documentation with mining organisations as part of the preparation of high-speed rail lines

Languages

Czech, English, German

Education

Charles University, Faculty of Law, Prague (2021), Master's degree (Mgr.)
Charles University, Faculty of Social Sciences, Prague (2015), Master's degree (Mgr.)

E: veronika.rezacova@havelpartners.cz