

Pavel Amler Managing Associate

Pavel Amler specialises in technology law, general commercial and contractual law as well as administrative law.

As for technology law, he focuses on the legal and regulatory aspects of the provision of services in the areas of software and IT services, IT system implementation, cybersecurity as well as digitalisation and e-Government in particular. He also specialises in advisory in the area of telecommunications, legal regulation of innovative technologies, and new areas of law.

As for digitalisation, he focuses particularly on the introduction of electronic juridical acts (paperless) in public and private organisations.

Pavel is a co-author of the commentary on the Right to Digital Services Act (2021).

Before joining our law firm in 2018, he worked in public administration (the Czech Telecommunications Office), in-house (corporate) legal advisory, and smaller law firms where he handled mainly e-commerce and contractual law.

Projects

- preparation and negotiation of purchase agreements and work contracts in various business fields
- advisory to local and foreign companies on legal steps regarding unfair competition and infringements of their intellectual property
- advisory to significant entities particularly in the financial sector on the introduction of fully electronic processes
- advisory to a multinational company implementing IT systems in banking project implementations
- advisory to a significant industrial company on the implementation of a new comprehensive IT system
- advisory to a company doing business in telecommunications in relation to an intended entry to the Czech market
- advisory to IT companies in contractual matters vis-à-vis their distributors and customers

Membership in professional associations

Czech Bar Association

Languages

Czech, English

Education

Charles University, Faculty of Law, Prague (2015), Mgr. (Master of Laws)

E: pavel.amler@havelpartners.cz

T: +420 255 000 436