

Pavlína Petráčková

Managing Associate

Pavlína Petráčková specialises in corporate law, restructuring of business groupings with a particular focus on risk diversification, the arrangement of holding structures and regulation of legal relationships among shareholders.

She also specialises in providing legal advice to private clients of our law firm, particularly involving intergenerational wealth transfers. This includes management settings and handover of family businesses and family assets and settlement of legal relations among family members.

In her practice she has participated in a number of acquisitions and divestitures, acting for both sellers and purchasers, including related due diligence.

Pavlína joined our law firm during her studies at the Charles University, Faculty of Law. After graduating and participating in a half-year study program at University College Cork, Ireland, she resumed her work with our law firm as a junior associate and since 2015 as an associate.

Projects

- advising a Czech bank on a capital
- advising on the transfer of a part of a business of a leading Czech company operating in the insurance sector
- advising in connection with the entry of a Korean investor in mechanical engineering into the Czech market
- advising the largest Czech internet services provider on a capital decrease
- advising an investor on the accession to a package manufacturing joint venture including related acquisition, setting relationships among shareholders and restructuring aimed at risk diversification
- advising on the creation and implementation of a management option plan of a Czech IT company
- restructuring of a leading Czech manufacturer of electric devices and intelligent wiring, including a split-up
- change of legal form of a joint-stock company operating in photovoltaics and a limited liability IT company
- split-up of Czech companies manufacturing components for the automotive industry and mechanical engineering
- legal advice on the entry of a Korean machine-building investor to the Czech market
- legal advice in connection with a dispute regarding invalidity of a general meeting resolution
- merger by the acquisition of Czech real estate and development
- restructuring of a major Czech manufacturer of cotton fabrics
- participation in a legal due diligence on a company active in the hotel industry and on a leading gambling company
- comprehensive legal advice on the incorporation of companies, branches, associations and foundations and other forms of legal entities
- comprehensive corporate law advice to leading Czech companies or subsidiaries of foreign investors active in sectors such as construction, mechanical engineering, pharmaceutical industry, IT and insurance
- advising major Czech private clients in connection with handover of assets to the next generation including a proposal of a suitable structure for the management and handover of such family assets, setting and management of related family holding structures

Membership in professional associations

Czech Bar Association

Languages

Czech, English

Education

Charles University, Faculty of Law, Praha (2020), JUDr. (Doctor of Laws)

Charles University, Faculty of Law, Praha (2012), Mgr. (Master of Laws)

University College Cork, Ireland (2011)